

DUKE WINS HUNDRED METER DASH, SMASHING ALL RECORDS

Carries Star of His Native City to the Front.

Uncle Sam Runs Away With Almost All Firsts.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, July 6.—Duke Kahanamoku, of Honolulu, member of the American team in the Olympic games, today set a new world's record for 100 meters, hanging up a mark of 62.5 seconds.

Hawaiian Duke Kahanamoku's smashing of the world's record yesterday in the hundred meter swim at Stockholm, makes him a top notcher at once and for all time. Hawaii has never had any doubt as to Kahanamoku's chance of winning this race in the Olympic meet this year in far away Stockholm. Everybody here who has followed Duke's career since he first came into prominence only a short time ago felt certain that this son of the soil would carry the American colors to victory when he competed with the world's foremost swimmers.

It was only on August 12 of last year that Kahanamoku astonished Hawaii and the athletic world at large with his phenomenal finish in the fifty yard swim here in 24.5 seconds, which beat Daniel's world record by 1.3 seconds. American athletic authorities would not believe the story when the cable sent the news broadcast throughout the land. It couldn't be possible, they said. Affidavits from this end certifying to the correctness of the time and distance were of no avail. Duke did not then belong to the A. A. U. and that settled it. He broke no record as far as recognized records were concerned. The local athletes started in real earnest to organize a local branch of the A. A. U., which was soon accomplished.

Duke was sent on to the States and what he did there, inexperienced in tank swimming, a stranger in a strange land, all Hawaii knows. He went up time and again against the best swimmers of the land and, though a stranger to tanks and corner turns, he easily proved his superiority to the satisfaction of the officials in charge of the selection of the members which were to constitute the American team at the great Stockholm meet which was inaugurated yesterday.

He made the 100-yard dash here in 55.2 seconds. The previous best world record for the straightaway was one minute flat made by Daniels and Scott Leary jointly. The same day Duke swam the 220-yard event in 2 minutes and forty-two and two-fifths seconds, only two seconds more than the world record.

Duke is rather tall, even for a Hawaiian, stands six feet and two inches and weighs 185 pounds. He is now entering his twenty-second year. Duke uses his own stroke in swimming. During his mainland visit, preparing for Stockholm he was trained by George Kistler, swimming instructor of the University of Pennsylvania.

UNCLE SAM'S RUNNERS WIN NEARLY ALL DASHES

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, July 6.—With a brilliant crowd assembled in the great stadium, with the king and queen of Sweden to open the latest revival of the ancient Olympic games, American athletes today were off to a great start in the opening of the track and field events.

Pacific Coast athletes made a grand showing, and there were several youngsters in the American contingent who went into international fame by their fleetness of foot.

In the preliminaries of the 800-meter race America carried off five first places, Clarence Edmundson, the foot half-mile from Seattle, Washington, was first in his heat, Caldwell of Massachusetts, beat Emilio Lunghi, the Italian half-mile champion and holder of the world's record for the 880-yard run, while Souter of England sprang a surprise by downing the redoubtable Melvin W. Sheppard of New York.

In the preliminaries of the 100-meter dash, America's victory was even more emphatic, the U. S. athletes taking seven firsts. Lippincott, the Pennsylvania flyer, broke the record for a distance, 10.45 seconds, by going it 10.35 seconds. Courtney, a mere schoolboy from Seattle, Pete Gerhardt, the veteran Olympic Club sprinter of San Francisco, were first in their heats. The winners of the semi-finals were Drew of Massachusetts, Alvah Meyer of New York, Lippincott of Pennsylvania, Belete of Chicago, Patching of South Africa, and Craig, the University of Michigan speed marvel who has been picked up as a likely winner.

AN OPEN SECRET.

Many ask the reason for the continued and increasing demand for "hamberlain's" Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The secret is that it ever fails to give relief. The middle aged men of today remember it as the remedy given them by their mothers for ramp colic and dysentery when they were children and its reputation as a positive cure for such ailments is still maintained. No remedy has ever been replaced that is its equal for the prompt relief of pain. For sale by Ben. Smith & Co., Ltd., agents for Hawaii.

SMASHES ALL WORLD'S RECORDS

DUKE KAHANAMOKU, SWIMMING WONDER OF THE WORLD.

DUKE MAY LOSE HIS RIGHT TO SWIM IN FINAL HEATS

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, July 8.—Owing to a misunderstanding regarding the semifinals in the hundred meter swimming races, America may lose what she has already won through the efforts of Duke Kahanamoku, the wonderful swimmer from Honolulu. The misunderstanding appears to have arisen over the dates of the semifinals. Efforts are being made to straighten matters out and it is possible that they will be successful.

Duke himself has carried the city and its thousands of visitors by storm. He is easily the most popular of the swarms of athletes here from all over the world. His work in the water is appreciated here most thoroughly and he is being asked out as if he were a social lion.

The president of the British Life Saving Society yesterday visited him at his quarters on the Finland, and offered him an extremely handsome gold cup if he succeeds in covering the one hundred meter swim in a minute flat. Kahanamoku may take up the offer later.

The Hawaiian is not the only American who has covered himself with glory in the great Olympiad. Craig, the sprinter, who was picked to win the two hundred meter race, won the one hundred meter sprint yesterday in the wonderfully fast time of ten and four-fifths seconds, tying the world's record for the distance. His race was a thing of beauty to watch and he finished going strong. Myers was second and Lippincott of Philadelphia was third.

This was the third unrivaled American victory since the opening of the games. Thorpe, the game little American runner and all-around athlete, won the difficult pentathlon.

Kolehmainen, an entry from Finland, who defeated the great Englishman Scott in a whirlwind finish, brought the thousands of people that packed the stadium to their feet yelling like Indians.

MAINLAND ATHLETES "JUST CRAZY" ABOUT KAHANAMOKU AND HIS PERFORMANCES

That American athletic associations and American athletes of all description have gone wild over Duke Kahanamoku's mainland performances is the story brought back to Hawaii from Chicago by A. Q. Mareallino. Through the courtesy of E. C. Brown, formerly of Honolulu, the Hawaii delegates to the Chicago convention were extended the house privileges of the Chicago Athletic Club.

When the members of this club found out that the delegates were from Hawaii and were personal friends of "The Duke," they immediately got in touch with the boys and would talk nothing but Kahanamoku and Kahanamoku's work.

Duke having gone to Chicago a stranger one would have imagined that he would not have been very well received especially after he defeated some of the best men at the swimming game, men who were also members of the Chicago Athletic Club. Such was not the case, however, and Duke was well received and entertained by them.

Every one spoken to at the time was of the opinion that Duke would not only prove to be the best swimmer in America, but that it would be only a matter of time before he would make a world mark. The boys predicted that Duke would establish a record of sixty-two flat for the hundred meter event. This particular event was actually won by Duke Saturday at Stockholm in sixty-two and two-fifths which proves that the Chicago prediction was not so very far off after all.

Just because the delegates were from Hawaii and also because they were personal friends of the champion world swimmer the local boys, from the Governor down, were entertained at a swell dinner at the club.

RICH CANADIAN TO BUILD A BEAUTIFUL VILLA AT OCEAN VIEW

A $15,000 home is to be built in the near future on the "Villa" site in Ocean View tract by L. Mercer, a wealthy resident of Edmonton, Canada, who purchased the lot a few months ago while on a visit here.

The plans for the home are being prepared by Emory & Webb, and bids will soon be invited. The house will be of stone for the first story and giant-shingle for the second story. The peculiar lay-out of the grounds was rather puzzling at first to the architects but they have harmonized both the grounds and the house and when completed the home will be one of the most pretentious in the Kaimuki district.

Several handsome homes are being constructed in Manoa and College Hills and property is exchanging hands at prices which always show a marked increase. The College Hills tract is rapidly becoming covered with homes, and there are now very few lots unsold by the Trent Trust Company which took over all unsold lots from the trustees of Oahu College a few months ago. The Manoa Park is being improved by a delegation of ladies who are members of a branch of the Kiloheua Outdoor Circle, new kinds of trees being introduced. It is planned to make it one of the most attractive places in the valley. Homes are being built on the lots facing the park, and it is rumored that the Focke tract on the mauka side of the Upper Manoa road may soon change hands and be opened up for building purposes.

CONGRESSMAN DEAD.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Congressman George R. Malby, of Coraing, New York, died at his home late last night. The end was sudden, although Mr. Malby had been feeling indisposed for some days. Heart trouble is given as the cause.

BATTLESHIP PROGRAM PASSES IN THE SENATE

WASHINGTON, July 5.—By a vote of 43 to 12, the senate today carried through the two-battleship program.

HOT WAVE SWEEPS OVER THE ENTIRE EAST, KILLING MANY

NEW YORK, July 7.—New York sweltered and baked in the grip of the hottest of hot waves yesterday and tonight brought little relief. Heat prostrations were many during the day and several were reported among the great throngs that sought for relief at the beaches and failed to find it.

From Chicago, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and Philadelphia came reports of similar suffering. In the Windy City fifteen deaths were reported, and in Philadelphia eleven deaths were attributed to the heat which was frightful in both the last named cities. The weather man holds out no hope of immediate relief.

OFFICERS TRANSFERRED.

Capt. William A. Kent, Second Infantry, has transferred to the Fourth Infantry and will proceed to his new station at once. Capt. George Jamerson of the General Staff (Infantry) has transferred to the Second Infantry and is expected to reach Schofield Barracks in August.

RAPID TRANSIT IS MARKING TIME

No More Extensions of Tracks Until Extension of Company's Franchise Is Granted.

No more extensions of the Honolulu Rapid Transit and Land Company's car lines until the company has received an extension of its franchise. This policy, which probably dates from the day the Governor turned down the legislative effort to get the extension, was emphasized yesterday by Manager Ballentyne when apprised of a petition now being prepared by the Kalihi valley residents asking the company to extend a King street branch in their direction.

Until this petition, which Manager Ballentyne heard of last night for the first time, the company has probably had no occasion to go on record. Now however the policy is not only definitely announced, but a growing portion of the city, struggling already with the growing pains of a lack of transportation, will feel the effects of the policy acutely.

In the last several years Kalihi valley has been considerably built up and in such a way and by such a class of citizens that once it is opened up by a street car line it will undoubtedly become thickly populated in a short time. Several hundred homes have been built there recently in spite of the inconvenience.

Within the last several weeks the petition, drawn up by one of the Portuguese residents, has been signed by almost every one in the valley, but it has not yet been presented to the company. This action of the Kalihi people forebodes further activity. Going first to the rapid transit already with the intent to present requests to other quarters and in some cases at least, put up a fight if they are not granted.

At the present time there is no school house large enough to accommodate anything but a small fraction of the children of school age in the district. Many pupils are taking the long walk to the car line every day and some even go so far as the Kaahumanu school in the Makiki district in their effort to get education.

Consequently a new school house is on the list of demands. Besides this, the roads have been in fearful shape, which made transportation problems all the more difficult. Since the Allan Herbert home, "Wallele," was purchased by Francis Gay, conditions in this respect have improved somewhat. Through Mr. Gay's efforts the worst parts in the road have been fixed and the "ravines" that formerly crossed it have at least been reduced to chuck-holes.

The district is, of course, utterly without sanitary service of any sort and a sewer system is on the list of what the Kalihi people are going after. They are "going after" them mostly to the county. Some requests are to be made to the Territory and as already noted, the rapid transit company is to receive the first one, which, as also noted, will receive no favorable answer.

The Kalihi Valley "kicks" are more than the usual district discontent, which is usually the chief affliction of any board of supervisors. The numerical strength of the Kalihi Valley voters is considerable, large enough to be consolidated, at least. To make matters worse for the politicians, most of the voters of the district have dropped party lines for the present and are going to swing their joint votes as a club over the next to be elected board of supervisors in a way, they say, that ought to bring in the goods.

MEXICAN REBELS ARE BATTLING DESPERATELY FOR MORE AMMUNITION

JUAREZ, Mexico, July 7.—Under the leadership of Orozco a band of rebels is now reported to be struggling desperately to reach Guaymas, where they hope to be able to import a sufficient quantity of ammunition to carry on the insurrection. The appeal of the federal authorities for peace and the offer of an amnesty to all engaged in the war except some of the leaders has been refused, according to the last reports.

PROGRESSIVES BACK UP WILSON OPPOSE THE THIRD PARTY MOVE

SONOMA ON FIRST TRIP TO AUSTRALIA

Wireless dispatches received by the local agents of the Oceanic line announced last night that the remodeled steamer Sonoma, who is now on her first trip to the Antipodes, on the new schedule just inaugurated by the company, will reach here tomorrow morning about half past six o'clock. The ship carries a heavy mail for this port, according to the dispatches. In all she has 304 bags and twenty-one boxes for Honolulu. She also has on board forty-one cabin and two steerage passengers for the Islands. She will sail tomorrow night for Australia.

TELLS STORY OF FATAL ASSAULT

Prisoner Makes No Attempt to Conceal Details of Affray in Tenement.

(From Monday's Advertiser.)

Testifying as to his own guilt, Francisco Antonio Masquetti, or Mesquita, last night appeared before the coroner's jury looking into the stabbing of Manuel Souza on Miller street Monday night, and told the story of the events that led him to Souza's room at midnight. Following the inevitable decision of the jury, Masquetti was formally charged with murder in the first degree and will appear before the police court Monday morning.

Not only did he appear as a witness, hardly much to his own advantage, but his thirteen-year-old daughter also appeared to testify against him. The facts brought out by these and other witnesses established but few facts beyond those already made public by the police. The examination was conducted with the assistance of Deputy City Attorney Milverton.

Masquetti told the jury that they had quit work at the Nunes shop on Alakea street where he was a guitar maker, and with Souza, later his victim, headed towards the fishmarket. Masquetti wished to make some purchases and asked Souza to assist him with his better knowledge of English. Masquetti bought a hat and a few other things for his daughter and then they met a friend.

The three, he said, went into a saloon and had two bottles of wine and later indulged in another. They then went to the fishmarket, where Masquetti made his purchases. Following this they had still another bottle of wine. Masquetti did not remember exactly how he got home. The first knowledge he had that he was there was when he awoke in bed late and heard Souza in another room making nasty remarks about him.

He admits getting up, taking his daughter's scissors and going into Souza's room. The two met at the door and immediately started in to fight.

Celestina, the thirteen-year-old daughter of Masquetti, testified to his coming home drunk. She told how he was put to bed by herself and Jose Cabral, his room mate, and how he got up again later to start the fight that ended in Souza's fatal wounds. She stated "that she did not know much about her father's ways as she had known him but a few months before coming to Hawaii."

As to Masquetti's term in jail which was reported yesterday morning, the man himself threw further light on it in a conversation with Acting Chief Kellett yesterday morning. He served fifteen years of the twenty-five-year sentence imposed on him, he said, most of which time was passed in an African prison.

At the inquest Souza's wife told how she had tried to protect her husband by spreading her skirts over him after he had fallen and the skirt itself was introduced in evidence. It was torn to shreds by the stinging blows of the scissors by which Masquetti had sought to reach her husband.

AUTO RUSHES MEDICO UP TANTALUS ROAD TO ATTEND MRS. STANLEY

While walking on the grounds around Judge W. L. Stanley's bungalow on Tantalus last Friday evening, Mrs. Stanley fell and broke her arm. Doctor Straub was summoned and he made a swift run up the Tantalus road.

This is the first time in years that an automobile has gone over the road, as a city and county ordinance passed several years ago forbids all power driven machines to make the trip. Doctor Straub's call was the first time since the passage of the ordinance that so urgent a need for the trip has occurred.

Doctor Straub set the broken arm and Mrs. Stanley remained on Tantalus over night. Yesterday morning another machine was sent up the mountain and the injured woman was brought to her home on upper Fort street, where she is reported to be resting quietly and to be entirely recovered from the shock.

Michigan Republicans Refuse to Trail Teddy.

Roosevelt Outlines the Plans of His Coming Campaign.

NEW YORK, July 7.—Like a bolt out of the blue came the announcement last night that the Progressive Republicans in Michigan have flatly refused to follow Roosevelt in the third party movement and have instead endorsed the candidacy of Woodrow Wilson. The move was an entirely unexpected one and it is believed it will hit the plans of the Colonel between wind and water, as it is thought that other sections of the country will follow the example set by Michigan.

The action was taken by the Progressive Republican League with headquarters in Minneapolis after a careful canvass of the State.

Colonel Roosevelt, earlier in the day, issued the first definite statement he has made since he left Chicago. In it he in a measure outlined the plan of his campaign. He said that "the progressive movement and all that it stands for in this nation, will be the keystone upon which I expect to build. My campaign means putting into effect every one of the principles of equal justice and decency for which I have stood."

The Colonel's statement is regarded as being an indication that he intends to make an uncompromising fight all along the line. In the Democratic camp the news of the action of the Michigan Republicans was hailed with delight. Governor Wilson is in Searight, New Jersey, where he is laying out the final plans for his fight and resting from the strenuous struggle of the convention and primary campaign. He declined to express himself when questioned regarding the Michigan news, but friends of his were not so reticent and they asserted that it means that the split in the Republican ranks will throw the election overwhelmingly to the Democratic nominee.

Theodore Bell of California and one of the Clark leaders upon the floor of the Democratic convention in Baltimore called upon Governor Wilson yesterday and pledged his support and that of the California democracy to the head of the party. After his interview with Mr. Wilson, Bell said that he is satisfied with the way things have gone and expects to see a Democratic President in the White House next term. He declared that Wilson has "an excellent chance of getting the solid electoral vote of the entire Pacific Coast."

It was learned yesterday that Governor Wilson intends to take as the keynote of his campaign the higher cost of living, assuming that the protective tariff is the cause of it.

Fighting for Teddy.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.—Sarah Platt-Decker, ex-president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs of America, now in convention here, was operated on today for a sudden attack of intestinal trouble caused by obstruction of the intestines, and her situation is very critical. The clubwomen in their convention today defeated a suffrage plank.

KENT TO RUN AGAIN ON PETITION, HE HOPES
